- Two members represent labor;
- Two members represent occupational health professions. The HHS Secretary designates these members;
- Two members represent occupational safety professions; and
- Four members represent the public. The HHS Secretary designates two of these members.

The Secretary appoints one public member to serve as chair (29 U.S.C. 656(a)).

Except as otherwise required by law, NACOSH membership is consistent with the applicable FACA regulations, as follows:

- Membership on NACOSH is fairly balanced in terms of the points of views represented and the functions to be performed;
- Members come from a cross-section of those directly affected, interested, and qualified as appropriate to the nature and functions of NACOSH;
- The composition of NACOSH depend upon several factors, including:
 1. The Committee's mission;
 2. The geographic, ethnic, social, economic, or scientific impact of the Committee's recommendations;
 3. The types of specific perspectives required;
 4. The need to obtain divergent points of view on the issues before NACOSH, such as, for example, those of consumers, technical experts, the public at-large, academia, business or other sectors; and
 5. The relevance of state, local or tribal governments to the development of the Committee's recommendations.

To the extent FACA and other laws permit, NACOSH membership also should be consistent with achieving the greatest impact, scope and credibility among diverse stakeholders. The diversity in membership includes, but is not limited to, race, gender, disability, sexual orientation, and gender identity.

NACOSH members normally serve staggered two-year terms. At the discretion of the Secretary, members may be appointed to successive terms and removed at any time.

Members do not receive compensation for serving on NACOSH, but are allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence (5 U.S.C. 5703). Members are not deemed to be employees of the United States by virtue of their membership on NACOSH.

SUBCOMMITTEES AND WORK GROUPS:

The Secretary, through OSHA, may establish any number of subcommittees and work groups for the purpose of assisting NACOSH in carrying out its functions. Subcommittees and work groups must provide advice, recommendations and work products solely to the full NACOSH and, under no circumstances may subcommittees report directly to the Agency (29 CFR 1912a.13(b)).

RECORDKEEPING:

OSHA transcribes and prepares detailed minutes for all NACOSH and subcommittee meetings. OSHA also prepares detailed minutes for all informal work group meetings. OSHA places transcripts, meeting minutes, work products, and other materials presented at NACOSH, subcommittees and work group meetings into the public docket, which is available for inspection and downloading at <http://www.regulations.gov>, the Federal eRulemaking Portal.
